Opening Panel Event: In A World Of Sound

6pm – 8pm

HOSTED BY

Join us for a panel discussion exploring the ever-changing world of sound in film. Sound operators, engineers, designers and composers come together to share their experiences, discuss the craft and look to what the future might hold.

With AI rapidly changing the creative industries, is it another powerful tool to embrace or should we be concerned about the future of our jobs? Come along for a thought-provoking conversation about creativity, technology, and the future of sound.

Panel discussion commences 6.30pm, with opportunity for networking afterwards.
